Study Abroad at the University of Winchester

Winchester is a safe small city in the South of England, with Winchester Cathedral at its heart. An hour by train from London and 12 miles from the coast, this historic city - Jane Austen lived here - offers you beautiful surroundings and an engaging cultural scene, making it an inspiring place to visit and study. The University has an attractive modern campus within walking distance of the city centre. There are excellent transport links that allow you to easily explore the UK and Europe.

High quality education and a wide choice of classes

We have a well-established track record for providing high quality education. The University has 7500+ full-time and part-time students, including 600 international students from over 30 countries. Our Exchange and Visiting (aka fee-paying) programs have been a success for more than 40 years, with 60+ American students taking part annually. They always speak warmly of their time here.

Winchester has undergraduate programs ranging across the Humanities, Arts, Social Sciences, Business and Sport. That means we can offer you a wealth of classes to choose from, whether you need to meet a General Education requirement or fulfill your Major or Minor. Our values influence everything we do, including teaching students in small class sizes in which you will feel part of a learning community with your student peers and your professors.
