

Georgia College & State University Study Abroad Credit Transfer Guide:

UNIVERSIDAD DE SALAMANCA CURSOS INTERNACIONALES EN CUSCO

One of the most important steps in planning for your study abroad experience is to identify the Georgia College & State University course-equivalencies for those courses you plan on taking abroad. If you choose to study in Cusco, the process is easier, as many course equivalencies from the Universidad de Salamanca Cursos Internacionales (USAL) have already been identified for you! (See list on flip-side). As you browse through the list, keep in mind that other USAL courses are available to you and you can follow a series of simple steps at GC to find out what type of credit you can earn. For a complete list of courses available at the USAL, please visit studiesabroad.com. There you will also find general information about ISA's summer program in Cusco, including prices, dates, application instructions, excursion descriptions, staff bios, and alumni testimonials.

NEXT STEPS

- » Visit the study abroad section of the GC International Education Center website to obtain preliminary information about study abroad opportunities and requirements for GC students.
gcsu.edu/international/studyabroad/
- » Contact the International Education Center at (478) 445-4789 or studyabroadinfo@gcsu.edu to schedule an appointment with a study abroad adviser. Your adviser will help you decide when and where the best opportunities exist for your degree and will answer questions about payments, financial aid, and scholarships.
- » To apply, find the program of your choice through the program search feature at gcsu.edu/studyabroad and follow the step by step instructions to apply. Once you've received approval from GC to study abroad, you may begin your application to ISA.
- » Visit studiesabroad.com and click on Cusco to learn more about our study center summer program and identify a preliminary list of courses you may want to take. Print course descriptions prior to your appointment with your GC Advisor. The ISA website also gives you easy-to-follow application instructions. You will also find general information including prices, dates, application instructions, excursion descriptions, staff bios, and alumni testimonials.
- » Contact ISA to speak with one of our advisors! Our friendly staff in Austin is available Monday through Friday from 8am-6pm Eastern Time. Write to isa@studiesabroad.com or call (512) 480-8522.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS: ISA – CUSCO, SUMMER 2

- » The Universidad de Salamanca Cursos Internacionales en Cusco is located at the ISA Study Center, and was developed in partnership with the Universidad de Salamanca to meet the ever-growing interest in studying abroad in Cusco. Students take classes at the study center with other ISA students, and classes are taught by local, visiting and US faculty. All students will receive an official transcript from the Universidad de Salamanca, upon successful completion of the program.
- » In order to maximize cultural immersion, ISA Cusco staff members develop unique cultural activities. These custom-designed activities invite students to experience the local color of their host city, while learning about the history and culture of their new surroundings. Speaking Spanish and Quechua with locals, tasting the regional cuisine, and partaking in the native traditions are just a few of the ways these cultural activities lead to full appreciation of the program city.
- » Excursions to Machu Picchu, Puno & Lake Titicaca and the Sacred Valley are all included in the price of the Summer 2 program. An excursion to the town of Puerto Maldonado in the Amazon rainforest is optional.
- » Enjoy the on-site support that has helped make ISA a leader in study abroad: 24/7 emergency support, full-time resident staff, medical insurance, airport greeting, extensive orientation, academic advising, housing and much more are included in the ISA program price.
- » For more information about ISA's programs in Cusco, visit studiesabroad.com or contact ISA at (512) 480-8522 or isa@studiesabroad.com.
